

Your Next Big Move Starts Here

Toronto Global is the first partner for international companies looking to expand into Canada's most dynamic and competitive business region. Our highly connected, expert team helps companies build strategic partnerships, access top-tier talent, and succeed in one of North America's fastest-growing markets—renowned for its diversity and world-class workforce.

#1

Fastest growing tech market in North America

83

construction cranes in the sky
– 2x as many as Los Angeles

2nd

Largest financial services centre in North America after New York

46%

of Fortune 500 companies have a presence in the Toronto Region

MILESTONE LANDINGS

NETFLIX

Unilever

WNS

Pinterest

sanofi

 Recursion

 reddit

 snowflake

What We Offer

Strategic Research

We provide companies with key information like comparative salary data, operating costs, and government incentives.

Talent Networks

Our team facilitates connections to academic institutions, incubators, and the region's unparalleled talent pipeline.

Marketing & PR

We help companies amplify their presence in Toronto and beyond through strategic content and media placements.

Government Relations

We foster partnerships with various levels of government to support company expansions and development.

Industry Connections

Our extensive cross-sector links provide clients with resources and partnership opportunities in the Toronto Region.

Why Toronto?

Big ideas belong in the Toronto Region. With world-class talent, a stable business environment, and direct access to international markets, this is where ambitious companies scale and succeed. The Greater Toronto Area is the fastest growing region in North America and one of its largest tech markets - a global magnet for talent, innovation, and investment. As one of the world's most educated and diverse urban areas, it's a place where innovation runs deep and businesses move forward, faster. Join us in building your future in Toronto.

“

In selecting Toronto, we will be able to tap into one of the fastest growing AI superclusters in the world with access to best-in-class research facilities and world-class talent while also building off the collaborative power of academia, businesses and government.

Gary Wade, President, Unilever Canada

As our first international engineering hub, the founding team will be mission-critical to creating impactful products and programs that set DoorDash up for success in Canada and beyond. Toronto has evolved into an incredible global technology hub and selecting the city for one of our engineering sites was a natural choice when considering our ambitious goals and growth in the Canadian market.

Andy Fang, Co-Founder and CTO, DoorDash

Toronto has long been recognized as a center for cutting-edge technology, and our investment in this vibrant city reflects our confidence in the immense potential of the burgeoning TechBio sector to drive economic growth.

Chris Gibson, Co-Founder and CEO, Recursion

”

Connect with us

info@torontoglobal.ca
+1-416-981-3888
torontoglobal.ca

Why Toronto?

Big ideas belong in the Toronto Region. With world-class talent, a stable business environment, and direct access to international markets, this is where ambitious companies scale and succeed. The Greater Toronto Area is the fastest growing region in North America and one of its largest tech markets - a global magnet for talent, innovation, and investment. As one of the world's most educated and diverse urban areas, it's a place where innovation runs deep and businesses move forward, faster. Join us in building your future in Toronto.

“

In selecting Toronto, we will be able to tap into one of the fastest growing AI superclusters in the world with access to best-in-class research facilities and world-class talent while also building off the collaborative power of academia, businesses and government.

Gary Wade, President, Unilever Canada

As our first international engineering hub, the founding team will be mission-critical to creating impactful products and programs that set DoorDash up for success in Canada and beyond. Toronto has evolved into an incredible global technology hub and selecting the city for one of our engineering sites was a natural choice when considering our ambitious goals and growth in the Canadian market.

Andy Fang, Co-Founder and CTO, DoorDash

Toronto has long been recognized as a center for cutting-edge technology, and our investment in this vibrant city reflects our confidence in the immense potential of the burgeoning TechBio sector to drive economic growth.

Chris Gibson, Co-Founder and CEO, Recursion

”

Connect with us

info@torontoglobal.ca
+1-416-981-3888
torontoglobal.ca

